

Script - Maintenance Program

Before we finish up your appointment today, I want to take a moment to acknowledge the progress you've made. You've been dedicated to your treatment plan, and it shows in the results you've achieved. Now that we're nearing the end of the treatment phase, we need to start to think about the next steps - how we can consolidate these health gains and ensure that they stay with you for the long term.

Depending on how you want to move forward, you have three different options. You can either continue to pay as you go. Each appointment is $250 each and you can order supplements in each appointment, as you need them. We also have two maintenance subscriptions that have been designed specifically to maintain your health progress, keep you in remission and prevent any regression. They also ensure that when you come across hurdles in your health journey (which we all do) you have the support on hand to help you get through it.

HealthHub Plus, priced at just $37 per month, provides continued access to our HealthHub, mobile app, group coaching calls, a private Facebook group, and a fantastic 50% off consultations. It's a great resource to enable you to stay connected with our health community and support services to keep your health on track.

For more in-depth support, we have the Vitality Plus subscription at $267 per month. Along with the features of HealthHub Plus, it offers regular health check-ins, yearly testing as well as $120 worth of products each month, and even free postage. It's our most comprehensive maintenance package.

These maintenance programs are not just subscriptions, but they are your partners in ensuring that the progress you've made during treatment continues beyond the treatment phase.

So which one are you leaning towards?
